THE PERILS OF DUELING

Syrup of Figs

Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's Own true Laxative. It is the most easily taken and the most pleasantly effective remedy known to cleanse the system when bilious or costive; to dispel headaches, colics and fevers; to cure habitual constipation, indigestion, etc. For sale in 50 cents and $1.00 bottles by H. B. Garner, Hopkinsville, Ky.

has provided more or less comment in the neighborhood in which the young lady lives; but the poor girl who has been at the flings of the gossips has a staunch friend in a little sister—a wee mite of a thing, with a heart filled to overflowing with the milk of human kindness. One day last week the maiden with the sanguinary tresses was chafing under some taunt from a neighboring doorstep, when the little cherub ran up to her, and, throwing a pair of chubby arms about her neck, exclaimed:

"We know your hair is black, sister;—it only looks pink!"—Chicago Herald.

be broken into chunks when cold, and is then ready for use. One ton of wood, costing $9, and one ton of brea, costing $3, will burn as long as three cords of wood at $9 per cord. This makes $27 for the wood alone, and only $12 for the brea and wood mixed.—Beeton Budget.

There were 60,636 births in Paris last year, of which more than 17,000 were illegitimate. There were 57,092 deaths during the same period, of which more than 10,000 were due to pulmonary diseases.

A Pleasant Evening.

One of the most pleasant and enjoyable social events of the season was the moon-light picnic at the residence of J. W. Yancey, Friday evening, given by Misses Lena Yancey and Ethel Braden. The occasion was the joint birthday of the two young ladies. Mrs. Yancey and Mr. Braden having put their heads and hands together, furnished the guests with such a feast of good things as only fond mothers of lovely daughters know how to prepare. Beautiful illuminations adorned the grounds and mirth and joy were universal. The young ladies all wore white and natural flowers. The invited guests were Misses Nep Jackson and Emma McQuary, of Trenton; Mamie Clark, Lena Grissam, Amelia Rogers, Addie Fuqua, Mollie Perry, Gamie Campbell, Albertine and Lizette Wallis, and Carrie and Mary McGowan, of Louisville; Messrs George Campbell, Fred Wallis, Victor Fuqua, Dave Canaler, Claude Clark, Houston Harrison, Lewis Guthrie, Hiram Salter, Bruce Snell, John Lipscomb, Cliff Clark and Rufus Crabtree.

Sudden Death of T. W. Weller.

Mr. Thos. W. Weller, of Louisville, Ky., arrived in this city Saturday afternoon last, on the 5 o'clock train, in an unconscious condition. He left Paducah Saturday morning and went to Madisonville, and, after transacting his business at the latter place, took the train for this city. He was conveyed to the Phoenix hotel and a physician at once summoned. Mr. Weller was either suffering from a sunstroke or overheat. He rested badly all Saturday night and despite the strenuous efforts of his doctors, died Sunday morning at about 9 o'clock. He was related to Mr. Eugene Wood, Mrs. D. M. Taylor and others in this city. His wife is in Alabama on a visit, and being ten or twelve miles from a telegraph station it will take some little time to hear from her in regard to the disposition of the remains.

Mr. Weller was connected with the agricultural house of Bennett & Co., Louisville, and was on the road making settlements for his house when he met with this misfortune. Among the effects of Mr. Weller was found $125 in money, a gold watch and chain, and an accident policy for $5,000 besides his private papers. The remains at present are at the undertaking establishment of Mr. Geo. O. Thompson.

Ladies.

In delicate health needing a gentle yet effective laxative will find the California Liquid Fruit Remedy, Syrup of Figs, pleasing to the taste, acceptable to the stomach, and perfectly safe in all cases. It is the most easily taken and pleasantly effective remedy known to cure and prevent constiveness, to dispel headache, colds and fever, and strengthen the kidneys, liver and bowels, and is therefore a favorite remedy with ladies. For sale in 50 cents and $1.00 bottles by H. R. Garner, Hopkinsville Ky.

Mr. John Thurman, one of our most enterprising young farmers, who owns part of the old Green farm about 6 miles west of town, has seventy-five acres of tobacco which was well set and is in fine condition. This is, perhaps, the largest and best crop in the county.

One of our colored friends, who knows a good thing when he sees it, came in a few days ago and after paying up some "back rations" renewed his subscription for a year and subscribed for another copy for his wife. With two New Eras in his family and two tickets in the drawing, he is "well heeled," so to speak.

Yesterday morning, as the switch engine with several cars was backing down the hill in the south end of the local yard, a freight train started rapidly up the hill. Before either train could be stopped a collision occurred, which demolished the freight engine and knocked three cars into the ditch. No body hurt. The passenger train, was delayed several hours.

Some time ago (presumably before prohibition went into effect) Mr. G. E. Galtier, our affable druggist, sent to a lady in the county a bottle of choice Kentucky whiskey. A few days ago, the lady sent the bottle back empty with exception of a good size live snake which lay coiled in the bottom. Galtier has the snake on exhibition and his prohibition friends are invited to call and examine it.

Herman Lamb, colored, was arrested Monday by Constable Wiley for jumping on and off a freight train against the positive orders of the conductor. On the way to the court-house, from the depot, Mr. Wiley saw the boy trying to get something out of his pocket and an examination revealed a loaded revolver. Lamb is now under arrest upon two charges instead of one. His trial will take place to-day.

The funeral of Mrs. Perry was held at Grace Episcopal church Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock. Rev. J. W. Venable officiating. The ministers of the city attended in a body, and a large gathering of friends followed the remains to the grave. Dr. Venable's discourse was a chaste and tasteful review of the life and character of his consecrated parishioner, and his words and the occasion were beautifully solemn because of the sad loss our community had sustained. Just at sunset the remains were laid in the grave and the devoted life of Mrs. Perry went out with the evening shadows.

A fight occurred at Sobree Friday night in which Mr. Anderson, the telegraph operator, was cut, and Aaron Belew, clerk of the Sobree house, knocked down with a heavy inkstand. Belew went into the office to send a dispatch, but was told by Anderson that he was too busy to send it. Immediately Belew then said it was a matter of importance, and demanded that it be sent at once. Anderson still refused, and hot words passed between them, followed by Anderson knocking Belew down with an inkstand, cutting a severe gash in the latter's head. Belew then drew his knife and cut Anderson seriously. Belew was arrested on the charge of cutting with intent to kill.

A Strange Case of Insanity Cured.

Last August, while Mrs. M. E. Cottrell, of this city, was visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Cruise, in Fort Stanton, New Mexico, the latter's little child, which she was holding, scratched her in the eye with its finger. Though it was only a small scratch it caused great pain, and opiates were applied to allay the pain. The opiates caused her to become crazy. Mr. Oscar Cottrell, her son, left at once on hearing of it, and brought her home, and during October it was thought best to remove her to Hopkinsville. Last week Mr. Cottrell received a letter from his brother-in-law, Lieut. Holkins, U. S. A., who was on his way South with his wife, and who stopped in Hopkinsville to see her, stating that she was well and would write in a few days. Yesterday Mr. Cottrell received a letter from his mother. She stated that she had also written to her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas Cruise, and his wife, who are out West, in order that her first letters, since her recovery, might reach them at same time. Mrs. Cottrell recalled many little details which occurred before the accident, and which she accurately remembered. She will remain in Hopkinsville until September, on account of the great amount of sickness in this city.—Louisville Commercial special from Owensboro.

THE O. V.

Mr. Clay Submits a Business Proposition to be Voted on in Thirty Days.

Hon. Jas. F. Clay representing the Ohio Valley Railway Company, spoke at the Court-house Saturday night. Although the audience was small, there were a number of representative business men present and Mr. Clay's remarks were listened to with business-like attention.

Mr. Clay spoke in a conversational way and after a few general remarks as to the history of his railroad, he said that he would, on Monday, submit to the people of the two Hopkinsville precincts a business proposition to extend the O. V. road to this place. He said that he wanted our people to act calmly on this matter and purely upon their own judgment, he would not, if he could, influence them in the least to take hold of the enterprise, simply upon his statements and advice.

He was emphatic in the statement that the O. V. was not being built in the interest of any other road, or to be "gobbled up" by any other road; that it was a perfectly square, open business affair and an entirely independent line. He said that they had all along been fighting the L. & N. as a competing line and always expected and intended to do so. The proposition, submitted to Judge Winfree late yesterday evening, a copy of which we were not able to obtain for this issue, is, in substance, as follows:

The two Hopkinsville precincts are asked to vote a subscription of $100,000 to the capital stock of the road, in 30 yrs. six per cent. bonds, which may be put on the market by the county and sold or which will be taken by the company at par. If the bonds can be disposed of at a premium, the county will get the surplus and simply the turn over the $100,000 to the railroad company. The money is not to be paid, in whole or in part, until the cars are running to this place. For this, the company proposes to extend the road from Princeton to Hopkinsville, within the year 1888. It is also agreed that in case the O. V. road should at any time within 20 years, go into the hands of the L. & N.—the money will be refunded, which condition is incorporated in the proposition. It is also agreed that no unfavorable discrimination in freight rates shall be made between this city and Clarksville, in case the road should be extended to that point.

Mr. Clay stated that his company under their charter, were allowed to place only $15,000 a mile as first mortgage on the road, that it was a perfectly sound organization and responsible for all its contracts and that the road, so far, was paying handsomely. He claimed that the company's bond as to the refunding clause would point.

Of course the $75,000 already voted to the Hopkinsville & Cadiz railroad would be absorbed in this, the proposition being really to vote $25,000 in addition to the sum on hand.

The O. V. matter has stirred up our people considerably and it may now safely be said that something is going to be done in the next few months at least to give us another railroad.

Killing at St. Charles.

Newt Ferguson shot and killed Arthur Long Saturday afternoon last at St. Charles, Hopkins county. The particulars of the affair as near as we can get them are as follows: A feud of long standing was renewed, and Long told Ferguson that they would settle it that day. Later in the afternoon Long attacked Ferguson with a club whereupon Ferguson drew a pistol and fired, the ball striking Long in the left breast inflicting a mortal wound. As Long was falling he drew his pistol and fired at Ferguson, but without damage. Long died in a few minutes after being shot. It is reported that Ferguson surrendered to the authorities immediately after the killing, but, of this we are not positive. Long was a former resident of Crofton and has a sister living there now.

Fruit Hill, Ky., July 16, 1887.

Editor New Era—

The tobacco crop in this neighborhood is short, not more than one-sixth of the average crop having been planted. There is about one-half a crop of corn.

The protracted meeting here this week has moved to White Plains.

Miss Mattie Blaine will teach this Fall at Dogwood Chapel, and Miss Neely Grady will teach at Fruit Hill.

Fruit Hill has now a good Sunday school.

Mr. Willie West will teach the Fall term at West's school house.

The three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. John Grady, died last week. It had been ill for some time.

W. H. King has concluded not to get a saw mill, as he expected to do.

Find Out First.

Ed New Era—
F's article in your issue of last Saturday, on the "Ohio Valley project" seems to the point. But we have been too long sadly squeezed in the L. & N. Railroad's grip to be further led astray or gutted, at a day like this. Were the full facts but known, they would doubtless show that the Ohio Valley "project" and the L. & N. Railroad monopoly are after all one and the same thing. Are we not bled enough by such corporations? We court competition! Let us in another article so meet both this question and objection that when the time comes for public expression and action, we may be more apt than now to find a majority with him for a Western Railroad connection, and not a monopoly. We lack assurance, and realize the fallacy of futile "projects" that leave us "out in the cold." We have been in the Valley enough already, too long to be "humbugged" more, and as yet we do not know that we want any CLAY in ours, but a little Mississippi water drawn to, at a point called Columbus, Ky., is our determined desire, and with "it" to help, will get there eventually. Let us, all take Florence Greely's advice and (railroading) "go west" with a long pull, and a strong pull! and a pull altogether.
